Good luck

to our Youth Speaks team for Saturday. Red, Nathanael and William are heading to Torquay for the South West Finals!

Also good luck to our swimmers at the Ilfracombe Aquathon on Friday!!

We hope you found Parent Consultation week useful. If you couldn't make it, please rebook a new time with the School Office. We're also running a Maths Workshop for parents, and an Open Morning later in the month. Flyers have been sent home but check the website calendar

Well done to everyone involved in the "Read for my School" challenge. It's a great competition for everyone in KS2, as they can set themselves targets and they can win prizes for themselves and for the school! Find more information on it HERE. So far 109 books have been read - and one pupil has read 38!!! Can you beat that? There's still plenty of time! As many of you know, reading with your children every night is so important - it makes such a difference to their learning in school. We hope that competitions like this one help stimulate that love of reading.

Speaking of which - it's World Book Day this week! We have the Scholastic Book Fair in the Hall and both the staff and the children are invited to dress up as their favourite book character. It's taking place on Thursday, please bring £1 as your fundraising contribution.
