

SEND Information Report 2021/22

Kinds of Special Educational Needs and Disabilities in our school

Our school currently provides additional and / or different provision for a range of needs including:

- Communication and interaction, for example, autistic spectrum disorder, speech and language difficulties
- Cognition and learning, for example, dyslexia, dyspraxia,
- Social, emotional and mental health difficulties, for example, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD),
- Sensory and/or physical needs, for example, visual impairments, hearing impairments, processing difficulties, epilepsy

The SENDco, teacher and teaching assistants provide support for all pupils across the four areas of need as laid out in the SEND Code of Practice 2014

Identifying pupils with SEND and addressing their needs

We will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. Class teachers will make regular assessments of progress for all pupils and identify those whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress
- Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers
- Widens the attainment gap

This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example social needs.

Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEN.

When deciding whether special educational provision is required we will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment, and the views and the wishes of the pupil and their parents.

We will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether we can provide it by adapting our core offer, or whether something different or additional is needed.

Consulting and involving parents

We will have an early discussion with the pupil and their parents when identifying whether they need special educational provision. These conversations will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strength and difficulty
- We take into account the parents' concerns
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are

Notes of these early discussions will be added to the pupil's record and given to their parents. We will formally notify parents when it is decided that a pupil will receive SEN support.

Arrangements for assessing and reviewing pupils' progress throughout the year

We will follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review. The class or subject teacher will work with the SENCO to carry out a clear analysis of the pupil's needs. This will draw on:

- The teacher's assessment and experience of the pupil
- Their previous progress and attainment and behaviour
- Other teachers' assessments, where relevant
- The individual's development in comparison to their peers and national data
- The views and experience of parents
- The pupil's own views
- Advice from external support services, if relevant

The assessment will be reviewed regularly.

All teachers and support staff who work with the pupil will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required. We will regularly review the effectiveness of the support and interventions and their impact on the pupil's progress.

Supporting pupils moving between phases and preparing for adulthood

We will share information with the school, college, or other setting the pupil is moving to. We will agree with parents and pupils which information will be shared as part of this.

Our approach to teaching pupils with SEN

Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class.

High quality teaching is our first step in responding to pupils who have SEN. This will be differentiated for individual pupils. Provision may also include:

- Small group interventions
- Guided sessions within class with the teacher and teaching assistants
- Personalised provision through resources and adapted activities

How adaptations are made to the curriculum and environment to support SEND pupils and to provide additional support for learning

We make the following adaptations to ensure all pupils' needs are met:

- Differentiating our curriculum to ensure all pupils are able to access it, for example, by grouping, 1:1 work, teaching style, content of the lesson, etc.
- Adapting our resources and staffing
- Using recommended aids, such as laptops, coloured overlays, visual timetables, larger font, etc.
- Differentiating our teaching, for example, giving longer processing times, pre-teaching of key vocabulary, reading instructions aloud, etc.

Adaptations to the environment and curriculum:

- Children work in mixed ability groups;
- A wide range of resources are accessible to children;
- Independent learning is scaffolded / differentiated;
- Texts are chosen to ensure appropriateness for the learners;
- Teaching assistants support learners when necessary;
- Activities and resources are differentiated;
- ICT is used where there may be an additional need
- Displays may be adapted for visual impairments;

- Additional equipment is used such as sound- field systems to promote and encourage good listening skills.

Securing equipment and facilities

In addition to EHC plans, the school provides equipment through its own budget and Element 3 funding. The school also works closely with parents, Occupational Health and Physiotherapists securing specialist equipment on loan.

Evaluating the effectiveness of SEN provision

We evaluate the effectiveness of provision for pupils with SEN by:

- Reviewing pupils' individual progress towards their goals each term
- Reviewing the impact of interventions through entry and exit assessments
- Using pupil questionnaires
- Monitoring by the SENCO
- Using provision maps to measure progress
- Holding termly reviews for pupils with statements of SEN or EHC plans

Support that is available for improving the social, emotional and mental health of pupils with SEND

The mental health of the children in our school is of the utmost importance; it is imperative that they are happy, confident, self-aware and comfortable in their surroundings in order to learn effectively and reach their potential.

Pupils are supported by:

- Being involved in many areas of the school community, such as the School Council
- Termly questionnaires are completed with children with SEMH needs to ensure their happiness and well-being in school;
- CAMHS support for individual cases;
- Extra transition for identified pupils

Advisory services accessed by our school

Where appropriate the support of advisory services and outside agencies will be sought in order to gain a better understanding of a child's needs and how best to support these needs.

An Education Health Care Plan (EHCP) may be put in place at this point or previously. This is a structured framework.

Expertise and training of staff

Our SENDCo has completed national SENDCo training. They are supported by experienced SENDCo's from within the MAT. They are allocated 3.5 hours a week to manage SEN provision. We have a team of one School Improvement Lead, 5 experienced teachers and 4 teaching assistants, who are trained to deliver SEN provision. Staff have been trained in Talk Boost, Speech Language and Communication, Safeguarding, Moving and Handling, Mathematics and Literacy. We use specialist staff where appropriate.

Complaints about SEN provision

Complaints about SEN provision in our school should be made to the class teacher in the first instance. They will then be referred to the school's complaints policy.

The parents of pupils with disabilities have the right to make disability discrimination claims to the first-tier SEND tribunal if they believe that our school has discriminated against their children. They can make a claim about alleged discrimination regarding:

- Exclusions;
- Provision of education and associated services;
- Making reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services.

EARLY HELP When one person in your family has a problem it often affects everyone else too. You may be worrying about someone's physical or mental health, a disability or special need, being a carer, domestic abuse, alcohol or drug misuse, harmful behaviour or involvement in crime. It could be your child, a young person or another adult, but if the whole family is supported as soon as possible to help cope with their difficulties, it's more likely that things will improve and everyone will be happier. You can ask for an Early Help Assessment yourself, or someone your family is already in contact with such as a teacher, a health visitor, your GP or a support worker may suggest one for you.	www.pinpointdevon.co.uk www.devonchildrenandfamiliespartnership.org.uk/early-help • Call our Customer Service Centre on 0345 155 1015.
